

Navigating Health Care: What is the Affordable Care Act?

with Amitabh Chandra

Amitabh Chandra is an economist and Professor of Public Policy at the Harvard Kennedy School of Government. His research focuses on productivity and cost-growth in health care and racial disparities in health care. Professor Chandra will outline the basic provisions of the Affordable Care Act and what it means for access to care, quality of care and health care costs and Paul Starr

Paul Starr is professor of sociology and public affairs at Princeton University. His book The Social Transformation of American Medicine received a Pulitzer Prize in 1984. He will discuss his recent book, Remedy and Reaction: The Peculiar American Struggle over Health Care, which examines the history of health care reform in America, including Clinton's health plan and Mitt Romney's reforms in Massachusetts that were a model for Obama's health care package.

Wednesday, March 28

5:00-6:30 pm

Yale Law School, Room 129

Presented by:

Students for Health

American Constitution Society

and

Institution for Social and Policy Studies